MESSAGE FROM KALANI

With the conclusion of the Asia-Pacific Economic Cooperation (APEC) Conference, members of the legislature again focus on State issues in preparation for the upcoming 2012 legislative session. One issue garnering much attention is the possible wind-farms and undersea cables linking Moloka'i and Lana'i to O'ahu. In response to this, I traveled to both islands with the members of the Senate Committee on Energy and Environment and House Committee on Energy and Environmental Protection to hear firsthand the concerns of these communities.

In this issue, we take a look at some of the events I attended during APEC, the listening tours conducted on Moloka'i and Lana'i, the significance of Makahiki and honor an award winning educator whose name now adorns a new public school library.

Please be safe during this holiday season and I hope everyone enjoyed a great Thanksgiving. We truly have so much to be thankful for.

MAKAHIKI COMMEMORATION DAY

Makahiki was a significant time throughout Polynesia. The rising of the Makali'i, Pleiades, marks the beginning of the Makahiki season that covers four consecutive months. Conflict and war were set aside and unity and peace prevailed as the people paid tribute to the god Lono.

To perpetuate the ancient wisdom of land conservation, abundance, unity, and peace during the four months of Makahiki, Polynesian regional governments celebrate the Makahiki season and have designated November 20th as the start of the Makahiki observance. Groups from Hawai'i, Samoa, Tonga,

New Zealand or Aotearoa, Easter Island or Rapa Nui, Wallis and Futuna, and the Marquesas Islands all gather in Tahiti to celebrate Matahiti Tau Auhune, a time of harvest.

Senate Bill 1035 introduced by Senator English, designates November 20th of each year as Makahiki Commemoration Day. This measure was signed into law as Act 068 following the 2008 Legislative session.

BALDWIN HIGH LIBRARY DEDICATION

Senator English was happy to attend the unveiling of the new Baldwin High School library which was recently dedicated to former Baldwin principal and award winning educator, Wallace H. Fujii. Wally was actually Senator English's principal during his elementary years at Hana High & Elementary. "This was a great opportunity to honor one of Maui's great educators," said Senator English, "He is truly deserving of this recognition in his dedication to our schools over so many years."

The new $8 million Wallace H. Fujii library is an L-shaped, 14,250-square-foot building that consists of the main library and a media wing. The main library space contains the library collection, tables for group and individual work, a computer area, archive,
